The Overall Small Pony Hunter Championship went to Highland Farm, LLC's Celebration and Kathryn Padilla of Palos Verdes Peninsula, CA. The pair captured the Overall title after winning the Under Saddle yesterday and the Over Fences today.

Reflecting on the Overall win, Padilla said "I have been dreaming of this and hoping it would come true someday. It still doesn't feel real. My pony Squiggles is dreamy to ride...I feel so grateful to have such an incredible pony. I love coming to Kentucky and being apart of this whole experience. It is so special to make new friends from all over the country."

Padilla trains with Christa Endicott, who said "Celebration is an amazing pony with so much quality. He goes in the ring trying to win every time."

Gold Standard, a Bridgeport Farms, LLC entry out of San Juan Capistrano, CA, and JJ Torano captured the win today in the Large Green Pony Under Saddle. "We have had "Hottie," for about a year now. He is six years old, and is super sweet in the barn - all the kids love him, he is their favorite pony to pet and play with," trainers John Bragg and Lee Flick of Bridgeport Farms said, "He was great today. JJ did an awesome job - he only sat on Hottie for the first time last Friday."

Regarding making the trip East from California, and their favorite thing about Pony Finals: "Especially coming from California it is a pretty big commitment to get here. This is a big stage for the kids to compete on and it really shows the kids and the parents that if they want to do this at this level, the dedication they have to put in. We have ten ponies here, it has been a good trip so far. All of the kids have done well and have gotten good scores, we have had several in the top twenty, it has been awesome. We are really excited about Gold Standard's win today."

Kaitlyn Linck, on the win today, Bit A Whiskey "Ripp," and what it is like to win at Pony Finals:

"I have shown him only a few times before Pony Finals. My favorite thing about him is he rides a lot like a horse - his trot feels like you are riding a horse. He is just so sweet in the barn and loves the attention. I felt that today went absolutely incredible. In the model he definitely stood the best he ever has. I have been coming here for the past six years, but I have never won a division class. It was extremely exciting to win a class at Pony Finals this year, I am definitely on Cloud 9. I like coming to Pony Finals because there are always so many amazing ponies and kids that ride really well which makes it super competitive."

MEDIUM GREEN UNDER SADDLE News

Riding out of Middlefield, CT, Emi Richard piloted Carolex Stables, LLC's Qualen's Charismagic to the win in the Medium Green Under Saddle. Speaking highly of the 9-year-old mare, trainer Liz Redding reflected on the win, the partnership, and the teamwork to get "Carrie" to Pony Finals:

"Carrie is the sweetest pony. She's the girl who doesn't realize how beautiful or talented she is. She loves trail rides & is very casual about most things in life," Redding said, "Emi is very similar to Carrie. They are both super chill and they both know how to really put it all together when the time is right. At their first show in the Green Classic, they scored a 90. Emi helped us to put in the work long before then. We spent many days in the USHJA perfecting our skills and making sure Carrie was ready to step into the Greens. I'm thankful to her family at Carolex for trusting that she was ready and that Emi was the right rider for her."

Regarding their plans for the rest of the year, " I'd say we have hopes that in only a handful of shows she could maybe get into Indoors, a top finish at Pony Finals, which she did already with her Under Saddle win, Devon 2024, adding more 90's to her already impressive collection, and just continuing to be the rock that we can always rely on. She is a fantastic and patient teacher and superstar all in one.....whether she wins or not, she will always make her rider happy and keep them safe. She truly is special."

Lady Desmond, a Dr. Betsee Parker entry out of Middleburg, VA, claimed the second spot with Vivian Golden in the irons. Third went to today's Medium Green Under Saddle winner - Bit A Whiskey and Kaitlyn Linck riding out of Clinton Corners, NY.
